

The College Journey: From College to Career, 2009

The purpose of The College Journey: From College to Career is to help each student and his/her family find the right college match. This book is dedicated to the premise that there is a best college for every prospective college student. It is based on the theory, according to Howard Gardner, that every capable student should aim to develop his/her five minds: disciplined, synthesizing, creative, respectful, and ethical-spiritual.
