

Little Athletes Big Leaders

Attention Sport Parents! You Really Can Have it All! You can teach your child to succeed in every venture they ever attempt, and ensure they maximize their athletic potential, and create and maintain a long term loving relationship with your child, and have an absolute blast during your sport parenting years! Break free from the belief that youth sport is about either winning or fairness. The truth is, the youth sport experience is really about teaching mastery, its about individual and collective goal setting, its about developing interpersonal skills (which are the #1 predictor of leadership effectiveness), its about learning from mentors, its about controlling what you can and letting the rest go, and its about action....and not action once in a while...its about action every day!
