

The Sun of Saratoga: A Romance of Burgoyne's Surrender

This story takes place in eastern New York State in 1777, during the American War of Independence. British General John Burgoyne has been ordered to descend into the area from Canada to put down the American rebellion there. Dick Shelby is an American soldier, and Kate Van Auken is his friend from childhood. Kates family members are Tories and Kate is betrothed to an Englishman named Chudleigh. These facts add much to the complexity of Dicks problems. Altscheler has once again woven a romance into an historically accurate action story.
